Promoting Student Success in the Classroom: Practical Strategies for Using Universal Design

Learn innovative strategies for implementing Universal Design for Learning (UDL), a framework that supports faculty and staff to make learning environments more inclusive and accessible.

Event Details

Breakfast & Check-in (8:00-8:30am)

Faculty Session (8:30am-12:00pm)
- Practical experiences from a re-designed course
- Tools and technologies for using UDL

Lunch & Presentation (12:00-1:00pm)
- “UDL in Higher Education: The Complexity of the Research”

Staff Session (1:00-4:00pm)
- Tools and technologies for implementing UDL in learning environments

Faculty and staff are invited to attend the session(s) that best suit(s) their schedule. For accommodations and questions, please contact Gwynn Benner (gbenner@ucsc.edu, 831-502-7793)

About the Presenters

Emiliano Ayala, PhD, is Professor of Education and Director of Assessment and Accreditation for the School of Education at Sonoma State University.

Brett Christie, PhD, is Director of Quality Learning and Teaching for the California State University (CSU) Office of the Chancellor.

Sponsored by the Division of Student Success, Disability Resource Center, and Center for Innovations in Teaching and Learning

REGISTER HERE: https://goo.gl/forms/asFx6FpitaYoSVIi3